

COVID-19 Photography Project

Do you like taking photos? Are you 13-17 years old (in Year 9-Year 12)? Would you like the chance to share your thoughts about COVID-19 and how it's affecting you and your education?

If so, I would love to hear from you!

My name is Julia Rosenbaum and I'm currently conducting some research for my master's degree in Psychology at Coventry University.

I'm interested in finding out about how the COVID-19 pandemic has had an impact on the lives of young people like you and in hearing what you have to say.

The project will involve taking some photos and chatting to me about your experiences over Zoom.

If you think you might be interested in getting involved, ask your parent/carer to email me at rosenbaumj@coventry.ac.uk for more information.

Please note, you will need access to a smartphone or camera, and the internet, in order to be considered.
